(STAFF) — The Stroud Presbyterian Church invites area residents to an afternoon of free music with one of Canada's most eclectic pianists.

Toronto pianist Frank Horvat will perform works from his new CD entitled I'll be Good on Sunday, Jan. 20, beginning at 2 p.m.

Horvat is an active performer throughout Canada and abroad.

He has performed, directed and arranged many styles of music including classical, blues, rock, jazz and pop in both solo and ensemble/band efforts.

He's performed in a variety of live venues as well as on television networks as the CBC and Bravo.

For more information about Horvat, go to www.frankhorvat.com.

The Stroud Presbyterian Church is located near Victoria and Yonge streets.
